

SAIA OATS

Saia Oats are a tall black seeded grazing oat with a fine stem and smaller seed than most other varieties. It is fast to establish and will provide good quality quick feed for grazing, hay and silage. Saia grows in a wide range of soil types and has good tolerance of acid soil. Saia rebounds quickly after grazing. Commonly used in cover crop situations Saia Oats can help control Root Lesion Nematode and Stubby Root Nematodes which can cause dramatic damage in potato and vegetable crops. Highly tolerant to aluminium and manganese toxicity.

Can be Spring or Autumn planted, Minimum rainfall 350 mls.

